Credit risk factors

Needs attention

The underlying criteria that credit bureaus use to calculate the credit score.

- Positive impact: 1
- Negative impact: 2
- Neutral impact: 10

Risk factors

Based on your latest publicly filed financial statements at Companies House.

Accounts filling

Good job! The company's accounts were filed at Companies House on time. Make sure you continue to file your accounts in a timely manner.

• Neutral

Filing your annual company accounts in a regular pattern is sign of good behaviour in the eyes of Credit Reference Agencies like Experian, as it demonstrates consistency in your business activities.

• Neutral

High capital employed or positive return on capital, suggests that a company is generating more profit with each unit of capital invested, indicating efficient use of resources.

• Neutral

An asset-light business can offer advantages in terms of flexibility and efficiency, but it may also expose a company to certain risks, such as reliance on external suppliers and a lack of collateral that can be leveraged by lenders to mitigate their risks when extending credit.

• Negative

A small current asset base relative to company turnover suggests that the business has insufficient liquidity to support its day-to-day operations. This raises concerns about the company's ability to meet its short-term obligations without relying excessively on external financing.

• Negative

Overview of your company's general information declared on your annual confirmation statement.

Company secretarial

Good job! Company and director details are all up to date at Companies House. The company Confirmation Statement was filed on time, and must be filed at least once every 12 months, even if there are no changes to report. • Neutral

The company has been established and operating for a significant number of years compared to other companies of a similar size. This suggests stability and expertise in your industry. • Positive

Industry and sector

The company is registered publicly and operating in what is considered to be a low risk sector of the economy. • Neutral

Directors' Commercial Experience

Neutral Impact

Publicly held information on your current board of directors and a review of their past/present business activities.

Appointed directors

The number of appointed directors is considered to be above average compared to other companies of a similar age and size. A larger number of directors suggests healthy growth in the business, which may benefit from a diverse range of expertise and experience. • Neutral

The average age of the company's board of directors is older compared to other companies of a similar size or age. This suggests that the business can benefit from a diverse range of expertise and experience. • Neutral

The company's directors have no previously failed or closed companies detected. Previous failures raises concerns regarding the long term stability of the company. • Neutral
